

Dejour Secures Additional C$2.5 MM in Bridge Loan Facilities to Support Kokopelli Completions

VANCOUVER, British Columbia--(MARKETWIRED)—JUNE 23, 2015 -- Dejour Energy Inc. (NYSE MKT:DEJ) (DEJ.TO) (“Dejour” or the “Company”), an independent oil and gas exploration and production company operating in North America’s Piceance Basin and Peace River Arch regions, today announced that it has closed a bridge loan commitment of up to C$ 2.5 million by companies associated with a principal and director of Dejour, on the same terms as the previously secured C$4 million bridge loan facility. These funds are targeted to provide for the balance of completion capital required by Dejour to see the eight wells recently drilled at Kokopelli through to production. The independent members of the Board of Directors approved the loan agreement and the principal and director appropriately abstained from voting in the loan transaction.

As previously reported, Dejour owns an ongoing 25% working interest in the Kokopelli Project. The funds drawn under this facility represent the pro-rata contribution required to be paid by Dejour to maintain its full share of the current development phase and includes costs related to project infrastructure intended to maximize future production efficiencies. The successful establishment of gas volumes from the high pressure Mancos could significantly alter the production profile of the entire project and the value of the total hydrocarbon resource available at Kokopelli.

“As a result of closing these two recent low cost funding transactions, Dejour has been provided with the requisite capital needed to achieve our performance targets. We are especially pleased to see the new Kokopelli wells being integrated into our overall production profile as it represents the successful culmination of several years of planning and development efforts. We have confidence that completion success of the strategic new Mancos/Niobrara indicated discovery will act as a strong catalyst to secure a commercial long term banking relationship to fund the continued development of this project. The Company will notify the market when completion activities commence,” stated Robert L. Hodgkinson, Chairman & CEO.
