

Dejour Energy Invited to Present at SeeThruEquity's Microcap Investor Conference on November 12, 2013

Denver, Colorado, October 24, 2013 -- Dejour Energy Inc. (NYSE MKT: DEJ / TSX: DEJ), an independent oil and natural gas exploration and production company operating in North America's Piceance Basin and Peace River Arch regions, announces that CEO Robert Hodgkinson will present at SeeThruEquity's Microcap Investor Conference on November 12, 2013 at 10:30 am. The Conference will be held at Convene Midtown East in midtown Manhattan.

SeeThruEquity will initiate coverage on Dejour as a result of the invitation to present at this event.

With the successful completion of our initial Williams Fork development program at Kokopelli, Dejour is now adding focus to the development potential of the deeper Mancos (Niobrara) high-pressure gas resource, a Basin revival endeavour in the Piceance that is expected to escalate sharply through 2014. This extremely prolific resource is thought to underlay much of Dejour's leasehold in the Piceance and provide the potential for a multiple of high IRR drilling opportunities to the Company.

Dejour, as operator, currently has controlling interests in over 10,500 net acres of leases highly prospective for rich gas in the Niobrara (in addition to the Williams Fork) throughout the Piceance Basin.
